Leading & coordinating global Sanctions & Embargoes integration

30+ COUNTRIES · EVERY ENTITY

Led and coordinated the workstream, managing a team of people who helped implement it, and brought every merging entity onto one Sanctions & Embargoes framework.

- BUILT Policy, standards and procedures · SIRA, RAS and RACI · the control set · sanctions system integration with fuzzy-matching logic · framework adjustments bringing HR, client and supplier screening into full scope · the deal-flow escalation process, with its governance, tooling and operational training · the dispensations process
- EVIDENCED KPIs tracked and full coverage demonstrated in every jurisdiction, reported to the ExCo periodically.
- THE REAL WORK Coordination – keeping every entity aligned so the merger was executed correctly, jurisdiction by jurisdiction, working through each country's legal requirements and local deviations, translating them into policy and testing they held in practice. A responsibility of that size leaves no room for mistakes.

Ayvens Group compliance merger

M&A COMPLIANCE INTEGRATION

Helped bring the LeasePlan-ALD merger under Société Générale onto one compliance framework across 30+ countries, for what became the world's largest car-leasing group.

- DELIVERED Policy harmonisation · training · procedures and quality assurance of the combined FCC framework · the Risk Appetite Statement · KPIs and the control set · regulatory watchtower enhancements
- COVERING Risk taxonomy, CDD, sanctions and transaction monitoring – all built to withstand regulatory scrutiny of the merger, and backed by direct engagement with regulators across jurisdictions.

Helping build Rabobank Wholesale KYC through its growth

NINE YEARS · SEVEN ROLES

Joined Rabobank Wholesale Banking as the department entered a period of major expansive growth, and helped build it out through seven roles over nine years.

- FRAMEWORK Designed the QA framework and ran the SIRA methodology · contributed to bank-wide TM scenario enhancement · shaped the department's Target Operating Model
- TALENT Built the pipeline behind it – an onboarding and Green House programme turning graduates into CDD analysts, a Hanze Hogeschool partnership, and training rolled out group-wide.

Setting up the FMO Learning & Development framework

RECOGNISED BY DNB · 2+ YEARS

A two-plus-year learning framework for a bank with some of the most complex clients in the market, later recognised positively in a DNB supervisory review.

- THE IDEA People need a properly tuned risk compass rather than a rulebook to follow blindly.
- THE CYCLE Needs-based design · self-study · monthly classroom training · case clinics · team aftercare – the same thinking that shaped an earlier programme for Rabobank's Wholesale KYC department.

Nº 01

About Me

Fifteen years in financial services, and in Financial Economic Crime compliance since 2015 – first in the first line, then the second – across Rabobank, ING, FMO and LeasePlan/Ayvens (Société Générale Group). My work spans the full second-line lifecycle: reading regulation closely, translating it into policy, frameworks and controls, and sticking with them until they actually run.

I am usually brought in to build or rebuild the compliance framework itself, then test it and enhance it from there. That makes it as much stakeholder management as compliance work – working across IT, HR, Legal, Operations and the ExCo to understand what each needs and where the framework affects them.

My experience spans the client spectrum too – Wholesale clients such as large corporates and financial institutions, trust offices, and Retail – and the frameworks reach beyond financial crime: product approval and review, terms and conditions, conduct and duty of care, tax integrity and data protection.

“You do what you love, you never work a day in your life” – a cliché maybe, but it’s held true in my career.

LEADING GLOBAL PROGRAMMES

Most of my work has been global. The biggest was the compliance integration behind the LeasePlan-ALD merger under Société Générale that created Ayvens, the world’s largest car-leasing group:

- Brought on to prepare Compliance for the merger, later leading the full global sanctions integration – every facet touching sanctions compliance, across every merging entity in thirty-plus countries.
- One framework – governance and policy, screening and filtering systems rebuilt entity by entity, all evidenced for the regulators reviewing the merger.
- The entire programme and its progress reported directly to the Société Générale ExCo – high stakes, a web of internal and external stakeholders, and a great responsibility as well as a great achievement.

The same pattern runs through the rest: Rabobank’s Wholesale KYC department and QA framework built out through its growth, FMO’s learning framework, and a global KYC authority established within ING Group.

BRINGING PEOPLE ALONG

Building teams and bringing them along is part of the work, not a by-product of it. Communication is the larger half of stakeholder management: people have to understand why a framework changes before they will run it properly. The global programmes – the merger most of all – needed exactly that: bringing people, processes and requirements together into something one organisation could operate. It is also why I teach as much as I build. At Rabobank, FMO and LeasePlan the training I designed started from one idea – compliance is grey, not black and white, so people need a risk compass, not a rulebook to follow blindly.

HOW I WORK

Most of what I know I taught myself on the job; this field moves faster than any course. I don’t just read a policy and apply it – I look at where it came from: the legislator’s intent in the memorie van toelichting, the recitals behind an EU regulation, the reasoning in DNB and EBA guidance. Understand why a rule exists and you can apply it to the case nobody wrote it for.

BOARDROOM TO OPERATING FLOOR

I’ve done the work I now advise on, which is why I can speak to both ends of it – the case made to an Executive Committee, and what that becomes in practice: the procedure, the scenario, the alert an analyst actually sees. On the supervisory side, I’ve prepared and sat in on JST and ECB engagements, DNB reviews and requests from regulators abroad.

TODAY

Apex Compliance Consultancy is where I bring that range to other institutions now – framework design, sanctions, transaction monitoring, governance and advisory, from banks and lessors to payment firms meeting PSP requirements.

Training is half the practice: classroom and in-house FEC programmes, e-learning I develop myself, and AI-integrated compliance tooling. Most current demand is the Wwft-to-AMLR move.

THE SCALE

Compliance Expert – LOD1 Framework Enhancement & ExCo Advisory

Ayvens Bank (Société Générale Group) – Netherlands

01 – 02 THE PROBLEM & WHAT I OWNED

Moved from the second-line role that follows into a first-line-facing advisory mandate – working directly with Senior Management and the ExCo, reporting and advising the CRO, on strengthening the LOD1 compliance framework. The remit spans the full compliance spectrum alongside FEC: ABC, conflicts of interest, privacy, conduct and regulatory watch.

03 – 04 HOW I DID IT & WHAT IT PRODUCED

Policies, procedures & templates

The core of the mandate: writing and enhancing the bank's policy and procedure set, with the guidance documents, reporting formats and templates that sit beneath them.

Process & control enhancement

Redesigning the processes the first line runs on and the controls that evidence them, end to end.

IT enhancement for compliance

Translating compliance requirements into system, data and control changes at LOD1.

Governance, reporting & training

Governance structure and reporting lines, periodic management reporting, and the training framework and guidance the first line works from.

Sanctions & AMLR implementation

Sanctions regulation implementation and reporting at first-line level, and implementing in LOD1 the AMLR gap assessment and transition plan I led from the second line.

Regulatory engagement

Periodic JST and ECB dialogue, AMLA outreach, audit missions and Level 2 Controls campaign preparation.

Policy adherence – group requirement to local attestation

Mapping group policy requirements against local procedures and controls, translating each requirement into what the entity has to do and evidence, and tracking adherence through to attestation – so what the group expects and what the entity actually runs stay demonstrably the same thing.

Senior FEC Compliance Expert / Project Lead – LOD2 Framework Set-Up

Ayvens Bank (Société Générale Group) – Netherlands

0 1 – 0 2 THE PROBLEM & WHAT I OWNED

Brought in as a compliance officer to design and set up the framework the bank's FEC function runs on, transaction monitoring included – adapting Société Générale group standards to the Dutch banking context (Wwft, Sanctiewet, DNB) and preparing the bank for its regulatory obligations. Reported directly to the CRO, carrying the bank's transversal topics hands-on together with the CCO.

0 3 – 0 4 HOW I DID IT & WHAT IT PRODUCED

Framework design & policy set

The foundation the FEC function runs on – policy, standards and procedures – with the reporting, regulatory interaction and process enhancements built on top of it.

Transaction monitoring

TM policy and the scenario-testing framework beneath it, with scenario coverage across money laundering, terrorist financing and fraud typologies.

Sanctions & Embargoes

The sanctions framework for the bank, from policy through to screening – with sanctions escalation running through an implemented deal-flow escalation process, and the governance, tooling and operational training that make it work.

AMLR transition plan

Ran the Wwft-to-AMLR gap assessment and wrote the transition plan the bank works from – the sequencing, owners and deliverables that carry it from the current framework to the Regulation.

Governance, guidance & training

Governance and reporting structure, the guidance documentation, and the training framework the first line works from.

Audit interaction

Point of contact for internal and external audit on the framework, leading the project that coordinated the engagement – scope alignment, the evidence pack and a structured response process.

The policy portfolio – implemented, enhanced and aligned

Gifts, Business Meals & External Events – thresholds and annual caps, pre-approval, register, tooling, reporting and monitoring

Conflicts of Interest – declaration, assessment and escalation

Anti-Bribery & Corruption – policy, controls and entity-level reporting

Client Protection – across the product and service set

Client Tax Transparency – alongside FATCA/CRS and tax integrity

Market Abuse – enhanced and aligned to the group standard

Whistleblowing – including the training that carries it

Incident Management – classification, thresholds and escalation

Customer Complaints – handling, recording and reporting

Product Approval & Review – PARP, with terms & conditions

ESG – group policy enhanced at LeasePlan, implemented here

Outsourcing, remuneration and fit & proper carried alongside, plus the Wwft-to-AMLR transition and sector-wide regulatory examinations.

The compliance control set – creation to attestation

Library & taxonomy – key versus non-key, rationalised

Design & blueprints – what each control tests, against which obligation

Control & test scripts – population, sampling, pass/fail, evidence to retain

Obligation & risk mapping – coverage demonstrable, not assumed

Ownership & frequency – named owners, cadence and evidence standards

Deployment & tooling – with the first line trained to run it

Effectiveness testing – design and operating, with sampling and tolerances

First and second line – self-assessment beneath independent testing

Issue management – severity rating, root cause, remediation to closure

Reporting & attestation – key control indicators, up to the ExCo

Change control – regulation changes, the control follows

Global Lead, Sanctions Compliance Integration

Ayvens / LeasePlan (Société Générale) – Amsterdam

30+ COUNTRIES	1 GLOBAL LEAD	Full COVERAGE	ExCo PERIODIC REPORTING
------------------	------------------	------------------	----------------------------

01 – 02 THE PROBLEM & WHAT I OWNED

THE MANDATE As global lead for the sanctions workstream of the LeasePlan–ALD merger, I led and coordinated the global integration of the Sanctions & Embargoes framework into every entity that would become Ayvens. A missed designation is a breach, not a near miss, so the mandate ran from strategy and blueprints down to filtering logic and per-country training, working directly with group-level sanctions leadership across thirty-plus countries. The footprint was not one kind of business either: leasing entities across every jurisdiction, an insurance company inside the group, a regulated bank, and the holding and other group entities above and around them – each with its own licence, supervisor and merger conditions.

A merger of that size means putting two of everything onto one basis: target-state design and integration roadmap, risk taxonomy and risk appetite, policy, standards and procedures, CDD and client risk classification, screening and filtering, transaction monitoring and reporting, governance and committee structures, controls and their assurance, systems and data, and training in each country. All of it evidenced for the regulators reviewing the merger. Escalation was built into the deal flow itself: an implemented deal-flow escalation process with the governance behind it, the tooling to run it, and operational training so the business knew when and how to escalate a sanctions hit.

Sanctions was mine to lead and be accountable for – and it meant working jointly with the other domain leads, understanding each discipline well enough to bring ABC, conflicts of interest, privacy, conduct, whistleblowing, outsourcing, remuneration, fit & proper and incident reporting into one target framework.

THE STAKEHOLDERS Beyond the framework itself, most of my time went on stakeholders: group and local compliance teams, LOD1 and the business, IT, HR, Legal and Procurement, external counsel and consultants, internal and external audit, and each jurisdiction’s regulator – each with its own merger conditions.

THE SCALE IT RAN AT One of Europe’s largest banks – which meant getting fluent in French AML/CFT law and sanctions regulation and in OFAC requirements on top of the Dutch and EU frameworks I knew, and travelling to entities to see how the framework landed on the ground.

THE STANDARD IT HAD TO MEET Sanctions is held to an exacting standard within the group: the merged framework had to be demonstrably auditable end to end, not merely sound on paper.

“Sanctions coverage isn’t partial. An entity is either covered or it isn’t, and a merger doesn’t get to skip that.”

03 – 04 HOW I DID IT & WHAT IT PRODUCED

Governance – RACI, RAS & SIRA Set the backbone first: the RACI and first/second-line roles, the Risk Appetite Statement, and the SIRA embedded into the sanctions risk picture. Built the global sanctions governance structure and, for the relevant entities, the local Compliance Committees – their composition, cadence and mandatory reporting templates.	S&E Merger Frameworks & Blueprints Transposed the full Sanctions & Embargoes framework into every entity – policy, standards and procedures – and authored the target-state blueprints defining how each jurisdiction would operate post-merger.
Screening & Filtering Setup Configured filtering systems end-to-end – fuzzy-matching language and logic, list management, matching rules and threshold calibration per entity – minimising false positives without losing true hits.	HR, Client & Supplier Screening Translated and embedded HR (employee) screening alongside client and supplier screening into onboarding, periodic reviews and event-driven triggers across the group – covering governance, process, policy, local work instructions, and the reporting and escalation set-up.
Dispensations, Controls & KPIs Designed dispensation processes, voluntary-disclosure and asset-freeze procedures; defined the control set, KPIs/KRIs and documentation systems that evidence them.	Global Rollouts & ExCo Reporting Rolled out controls globally and established the governance for periodic sanctions campaigns as part of group oversight – adapting control scripts, systems, processes and procedures per entity, with per-jurisdiction training and on-site work across the footprint. Periodic ExCo reporting, backed by a regulatory watchtower and regular interaction with Group Audit and external auditors.

THE OUTCOME

A fully integrated sanctions programme with full coverage across all jurisdictions – policy, controls and systems aligned at go-live.

Senior Group Compliance Officer – Financial Economic Crime

LeasePlan (Société Générale Group) – Amsterdam Zuidas

01 – 02 THE PROBLEM & WHAT I OWNED

One of the compliance leads on the LeasePlan-ALD merger that created Ayvens – building the compliance framework for the combined entity ahead of integration, and defining how transaction monitoring would work group-wide. Two groups of leasing entities, an insurance company, a regulated bank and the holding structures above them all had to end up on one framework.

Integrating two groups meant merging the entire compliance framework, not only FEC – from ABC and conflicts of interest to conduct, whistleblowing, PARP, outsourcing, remuneration and fit & proper, plus the group Know Your Supplier and ESG policies.

03 – 04 HOW I DID IT & WHAT IT PRODUCED

Group policy set

Drafted the group-wide AML/CFT and Sanctions policies and ran the full ECB / EBA / Wwft enhancement process against them, including successive EBA guideline updates and assessments.

Regulatory watch

Designed and enhanced the global Compliance regulatory watch – a continuous monitoring process, with the team trained to run it.

LOD1 / LOD2 enhancement

Led the global enhancement project across change and merger preparation – process, systems, procedures and training – steering global entity collaboration and the streamlining of KYC processes.

QA, risk appetite & SIRA

Shaped and helped set up the global QA framework for Compliance on KYC. Shaped the Risk Appetite Statement and guided the SIRA across the combined entity.

Know Your Supplier (KYS) policy

Wrote the group KYS policy – extending due diligence beyond the client into the supply chain, with the risk assessment, screening and onboarding requirements that sit behind it.

ESG policy enhancement

Enhanced the group ESG policy and the compliance requirements attached to it – later implemented at entity level at Ayvens Bank.

Transaction monitoring strategy

Defined the TM strategy aligned to EBA/GL/2021/02 and DNB – the foundation later executed at Ayvens Bank.

First-line contact & reporting

Global first-line point of contact; delivered periodic ExCo reporting and a global learning framework.

Lead, FEC Learning & Development – CDD/KYC

FMO – Dutch Entrepreneurial Development Bank – The Hague

01 – 02 THE PROBLEM & WHAT I OWNED

Held concurrently with the LeasePlan and Ayvens engagements. Built the bank's FEC learning function from scratch and rewrote the standards behind it.

03 – 04 HOW I DID IT & WHAT IT PRODUCED

Multi-year L&D programme

Set up the entire FEC learning programme and its structure – a multi-year framework running across all of the bank's sectors, with the curricula, materials and calendar behind it.

Learning methodology

Self-study, monthly classroom training, case clinics, team knowledge-sharing sessions and aftercare – a full cycle rather than a single course.

KYC Essentials curriculum

The core programme, built from scratch: why a rule exists before what it says, so people can handle the cases a checklist never covered.

AML/CFT & Sanctions standards

Redid FMO's AML/CFT and Sanctions standards in full, amended to the bank's new reality and the risk-based approach DNB requires, in line with FATF – including the set-up of the guidance documents beneath them.

Risk landscape covered

Across FMO's sectors – financial institutions, energy, and agribusiness, food & water – financed through direct investments and private equity funds in emerging and frontier markets: AML, sanctions, export controls, geographic and sector risk, source of funds and complex ownership, plus the SDG, sustainability and ESG due diligence a development-finance mandate requires.

Recognised by the regulator

Recognised positively in a De Nederlandsche Bank supervisory review.

FEC CDD/KYC Subject Matter Expert (a.i.)

FMO – Dutch Entrepreneurial Development Bank – The Hague

01 – 02 THE PROBLEM & WHAT I OWNED

Engaged as interim FEC subject-matter expert during a key quality-enhancement phase – lifting the quality of CDD files, mentoring analysts and establishing clear growth paths for KYC roles, before going on to lead the Learning & Development team.

03 – 04 HOW I DID IT & WHAT IT PRODUCED

File quality & mentoring

Oversaw file-quality improvement and mentored analysts through the quality-enhancement programme, lifting file accuracy.

CDD process redesign

Redesigned core CDD processes and embedded best practice into daily workflows.

Growth paths & onboarding

Created growth paths, job curricula and an onboarding programme for the KYC department.

Training framework

Steered an ad-hoc training framework to bring the quality-enhancement project to a close effectively.

Senior KYC/CDD Expert – Global CDD Center of Expertise

ING – Amsterdam

01 – 02 THE PROBLEM & WHAT I OWNED

Recruited into ING's redevelopment of its KYC operating model on the strength of the frameworks I had built at Rabobank – and retained on the same basis. ING was standing up a Global CDD Center of Expertise to act as the group's single KYC authority, and my mandate was to help build it. That meant redefining the risk-related components of the KYC standards from the ground up, and embedding them in the global rollout of the new KYC system – so one global standard would still hold up in thirty different legal systems.

03 – 04 HOW I DID IT & WHAT IT PRODUCED

Cross-sector benchmarks

Established cross-sector KYC benchmarks – Retail, SME, Wholesale, Private Banking and Mid-Corporate.

Global KYC system rollout

Worked alongside IT on the rollout – translating policy and risk logic into system requirements, and writing the FEC guidelines that travelled with it. Helped lead the team effort, engaging senior management directly and, on occasion, ING's CEO.

KYC standards

Redefined the risk-related components – risk classification, EDD triggers, and the Ongoing Due Diligence engine that keeps client risk current.

Local deviations

Aligned per-country regulatory deviations against group policy, defining exceptions where local law required them – liaising with Compliance on the global standards and building a detailed picture of where local legislation diverged.

Rabobank Group – Nine Years, Seven Roles

Wholesale Banking & Financial Markets – Utrecht

01 – 02 THE PROBLEM & WHAT I OWNED

Nine years, seven roles – the years everything since has rested on. I came in through Financial Markets, moved into first-line CDD during a major KYC uplift programme, and worked my way from reviewing high-risk Wholesale files, to assuring the quality of other people's files, to training the people who wrote them, to advising the management running the department.

In the advisory years that meant engaging directly with the COO and members of the Groepsdirectie, on many occasions representing the department on FCC matters to the Board of Directors. It's why I read frameworks from the bottom up. I know what a CDD file has to prove, and what breaks when a policy is written without that in mind.

"I learned FCC by working the file, long before I ever wrote it into a policy. That's still how I judge whether a framework will actually work, or just look right on paper."

03 – 04 HOW I DID IT & WHAT IT PRODUCED

CDD from the File Up

High-risk Wholesale client due diligence during the KYC uplift programme – UBO and complex ownership unwinding, source of funds and source of wealth substantiation, PEP and adverse-media assessment, sanctions nexus, purpose and nature of the relationship, and the EDD narrative that ties it together defensibly.

Client Risk Classification

Applied and refined risk scoring across country, sector, product, channel and structure risk; set EDD triggers and review cycles; handled escalations and exit decisions on unacceptable-risk relationships. As part of the KYC department, fed first-line input into how the policy itself was written, together with Compliance.

Quality Assurance Framework

Designed and rolled out the QA framework for Wholesale KYC – sampling methodology, review criteria, error taxonomy, calibration sessions and root-cause feedback loops into training and policy. It's what kept quality steady while the department grew fast.

FCC Policy & CDD Standards

Contributed first-line reality into CDD policy and global standards – translating AML/CFT and sanctions requirements into procedures, work instructions and decision trees analysts could actually apply.

SIRA & Transaction Monitoring

Led the SIRA execution for the Wholesale department for two consecutive years – inherent-risk identification, control effectiveness assessment and residual-risk conclusions – and contributed to bank-wide TM scenario enhancement, connecting the risk assessment to the scenarios, thresholds and controls meant to mitigate it.

Building the Wholesale KYC Department

Helped build the Wholesale KYC department and the talent behind it – onboarding assessments and case studies to select and calibrate new analysts, a Learning & Development programme with job-specific curricula, a Green House programme for accelerated internal development, and a cooperation with Hanze Hogeschool on CDD to create a sustained pipeline. Also contributed to the Target Operating Model, co-authored global CDD Guidance Notes, and helped roll the training programme out bank-wide.

END OF PORTFOLIO

Thank you for your time

Thank you for taking an interest in my work and in Apex Compliance Consultancy. Whether you read the snapshot or the whole Casebook, I hope it gave you a clear picture of how I build compliance frameworks and what it takes to make them hold.

If there is a framework to build, test or defend – or a team to bring up to speed – I would be glad to hear about it.
